Rock Falls From Sky, Rips Into Car In S-burg

FOR the second time this month rock fell out of the sky following blasting operations by J. H. Beers, Inc., on the Stroudsburg Thruway in South Stroudsburg.

Yesterday the number of reported falling rocks was limited to one and that one, about the size of a man's fist, ripped through the right rear fender of a car owned by Donald Curtis, 116 W. Broad St., East Stroudsburg who was parked in the municipal parking lot in back of WVPO.

Heard Both

Jerry Hoover, 16, of 345 Main St., Stroudsburg, was returning to his home from a dentist appointment at 1:45 p.m. and was in the parking lot at the time of the accident.

Hoover said, "I heard the blast go off and then I heard the stone hit the car. After I saw what happened I wanted to run to get away from any more that might fall. But I couldn't."

Stroudsburg Police were notified and they traced the car owner through the registration plate and notified J. H. Beers, Inc.

Beers then contacted Curtis telling him to get an estimate of the damage and send the bill to their office.

At this time Beers told Curtis that they (Beers) were covered by insurance and that the insurance company would take care of the damage.

The Daily Record was unable to contact J. H. Beers Inc. for a statement concerning the incident.

D&LW Charged By Airlines

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Mohawk Airlines charged that the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad was acting as a "self-appointed arbiter of the public interest" in opposing Mohawk's request for an increase in its air mail subsidy.

In a brief filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, Mohawk asserted that "the harassment of Mohawk and the utterly useless disruption of the administrative process by the DL&W must not be tolerated any longer."

Blood Is Spilled In Turkish Cities

Martial Law Declared In Areas

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Student demonstrations erupted in three Turkish cities Friday against Premier Adnan Menderes and bloodshed resulted in clashes with police.

The government reacted quickly by extending martial law in Istanbul and Ankara for three months.

The most violent clash was in the capital, Ankara, where about 100 students were injured and unconfirmed reports said four students and a policeman were killed. Students and police clashed there in a melee of clubs and tear gas.

Demonstrations were more orderly in Istanbul, Turkey's largest city, and at Izmir, site of a big North Atlantic Treaty Organization base in western Turkey.

Army tanks, mounted troops and infantry surrounded the walls of Istanbul University, where 2,000 students started a sitdown strike. As darkness fell, the students sent up chants of "liberty" and "Menderes resign."

Would Stay If

They said they would stay on the campus until the 61-year-old Premier quits and until 11 comrades they claim fell in Thursday's riots are returned to them for martyrs' funerals. They also claim 40 of their number are missing.

Martial law was imposed in Istanbul and Ankara following Thursday's disorders, and the Turkish Parliament, controlled by Menderes' ruling Democrat party, moved quickly to extend it through May, June and July.

Military commanders in the two cities issued new orders banning all public assemblies, including sports events, during the period.

The military commanders also ordered all universities and colleges in Istanbul and Ankara closed until May 29. But the 2,000 students enrolled at Istanbul University ignored the orders and assembled in groups of two and three on the campus throughout the day.

The Interior Ministry said only one student was killed in the outbreak of trouble in Istanbul Thursday. There have been unconfirmed reports that more were killed.

Menderes, whose tough political tactics are under student attack, appealed by radio for Turks to inform on persons who he said, are spreading rumors. He called the two days of student demonstrations "prearranged movements detrimental to our nation."

So far, the movement appeared to be confined to university students and there was no indication of popular response to demands for ouster of Menderes.

The demonstrations in Istanbul and Ankara were in defiance of martial law orders banning public gatherings.

Hoffa Loses

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa Friday lost another attempt to forestall a federal court trial which could lead to his ouster as president of the Teamsters Union. The trial was set to begin Tuesday.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph R. Jackson rejected arguments by Hoffa's counsel that only the union's members and not the courts can remove Hoffa for alleged misuse of union funds.

"Denied in all respects," the judge said of Hoffa's motion to cancel the trial.

Hoffa's attorneys immediately announced a new application to the U.S. Court of Appeals to avoid trial. One such move already was pending before the Appeals Court.

Hoffa is under special court-imposed obligations to safeguard union funds.

Non-Stop U.S. Flyer Sought

Ham Radio Operator Spurs Search

HONOLULU (AP)—A report from an amateur radio operator in Texas sent Coast Guard planes searching tropic islands Friday for Peter Gluckmann, unaccounted for on an attempted non-stop flight from Tokyo to New York.

The amateur said a voice she heard from an island 150 miles from Honolulu might have been that of the flying San Francisco watchmaker.

The Coast Guard ordered its planes aloft immediately. They swept all shorelines within a radius of 150 miles.

One plane was sent to check on a green flare sighted on the water 135 miles northeast of Honolulu by a Navy patrol plane at 1:48 a.m.

No check had been made immediately because distress flares are red, not green. A hunt was ordered because of the similarity of distances in the flare sighting and the radio report.

The Coast Guard also sent a carrier pigeon to the little privately owned island of Nihoa asking residents to search the beaches. There is little contact between Nihoa and other Hawaiian islands.

The ham radio report was received after the Coast Guard said the 34-year-old bachelor was "believed down at sea."

The Federal Aviation Agency here said Mrs. J. E. Sifferlieu of Bandera, Tex., picked up "a weak radio signal of 16 meters from Gluckmann saying he was down on a beach 150 miles from Honolulu." In Bandera, Mrs. Sifferlieu said the fading broadcast did not identify the plane as Gluckmann's and she had no way of knowing whether it was he.

The last confirmed radio report from Gluckmann was at 9 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Wednesday, seven hours after he left Tokyo in an attempt to set a new distance record for single-engine planes.

Gluckmann's sponsors in Seattle estimated his gasoline supply would last until 10 p.m. EST Friday night.

The watchmaker was flying a modified J35 Bonanza Beechcraft in an effort to break the 7,688-mile distance record set by fellow Californian Max Conrad in April 1959 on a flight from Casablanca to Texas.

Gravel Place May Stay Open

MONROE COUNTY Assemblyman Van D. Yetter announced yesterday that he received favorable comment on keeping open Gravel Place Crossing, Stroud Township.

The state assemblyman based his remarks on a letter received from Public Utilities official Walter O'Hara.

O'Hara said, "It is anticipated that an order will be presented to the commission for their approval within the next 30 days and in all probability the cost will be allocated the same as presented."

April 13 parties involved in the crossing hearing met in the office of the Monroe County Commissioners to try to reach an amiable solution.

It was at this time that proposed offers were made. Stroud Township offered $4,000, Monroe County Commissioners proposed $9,000 and representatives for the railroad, in the first hearing offered $9,000.

Commission Money

Yetter also received a phone call from Joseph Sharsin, member of the Public Utility Commission, and was told that the PUC was contemplating using $6,000 of commission money used for matters such as this.

Soviet Trawler Watches Navy Polaris Sub Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Soviet trawler watched the new U.S. Navy Polaris submarine George Washington conducting tests only 60 miles off Long Island, the Navy disclosed Friday.

It made public a photograph of the Soviet ship, taken on Tuesday, as the trawler cruised within a mile of where the submarine was testing out its missile-launching equipment.

The trawler was identified by the Navy as the Vega. The picture indicated the Soviet ship is about 22 feet long and that it carries radar. Presumably the Vega, like most big trawlers, is also equipped with sonar, the underwater sound detection apparatus useful for spotting fish or submarines.

Off Norfolk

The Vega, after leaving the test scene 60 miles south of Long Island, later was observed off Norfolk, Va. Norfolk is the home base for most of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet.

Since the testing site off Long Island is in international waters, the Soviet craft had every legal right to be there.

The George Washington, the first of the fleet ballistic missile submarines, was test-firing dummy slugs. These slugs are ejected from the launching tube and come out to the surface but do not go into the air.

At Conferences

The disclosures were made at a news conference held by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at about the time the 94.8-pound space messenger passed the 6,700,000-mile mark of its long orbit around the sun.

These were the major findings reported:

1. History's first direct observation of pure cosmic rays — that is, cosmic rays detected at altitudes completely free of the earth's atmosphere.

Pioneer made the observations at three million miles altitude while riding through a storm of such rays kicked up by a great sunspot. That sunspot bedeviled radio communications on earth and caused spectacular displays of northern and southern lights.

Big Boosts In Defense Aid Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The powerful House Appropriations Committee Friday recommended hundreds of millions of dollars more than President Eisenhower asked for missile-firing submarines, airborne alert readiness and other military preparations it deemed urgent.

But in its final form, the $39,337,867,000 money bill the committee sent to the House was only $121,967,000 more than Eisenhower's revamped military budget for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

That was because—in redrafting key parts of that budget—the committee lopped off other hundreds of millions from administration proposals.

Denied Air Money

Among other things, the committee denied 293 million dollars for another conventionally-powered aircraft carrier which the House group said isn't needed.

It pared by another 294 million dollars funds originally earmarked for the Bomarc-B anti-aircraft missile which the committee noted "has had very little success" in its testing. All that was left to the Bomarc program was 50 million dollars to continue development, if the military decides that is advisable.

House members advocating the Navy carrier and the Bomarc are likely to put up a fight when the bill reaches the House for debate next Tuesday. But the House generally follows the recommendations of its Appropriations Committee.

The Democratic-controlled committee—while wishing to go faster than the administration in building up some weapons and military capabilities—did not argue with basic Pentagon military doctrine.

But it showed by its actions that it had heeded the urgent appeals of Strategic Air Command leaders and Army chiefs for a greater bomber alert readiness, more planes to ferry troops to trouble spots and modernization of Army weapons.

Accepts Stand

The committee accepted the Defense Department's stand that the best force is a versatile one embracing missiles, manned bombers, rocket-shooting subs, carriers and other weapons systems.

It noted—but did not argue with—the Defense Department's contentions that while the Russians may outgun the United States in long-range missile power over the next few years, there will be no overall gap in U.S. power to deter any Soviet attack.

On the basis of intelligence data, the committee said, it appears the missile gap between the United States and the Soviet Union will be at its widest next year and in 1962, then "narrow from that time on and disappear."

Calling for faster progress in acquiring some weapons, the committee declared "the fatal mistake of too little and too late must not be made."

Chessman Plea Denied By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Supreme Court Friday—for the third time—rejected a petition for clemency for death row author Caryl Chessman, whose ninth date with death is set for 10 a.m. Monday.

The vote was 4-3, the same as that in which the court previously rejected the clemency plea.

The court said the action "is final and forthwith, banning any rehearing of the petition."

The court considered the petition for two hours and 40 minutes, returning its decision at 6:10 p.m. This was 40 minutes longer than the court took to consider the first petition for clemency. In the second petition a ruling was handed down after an hour.

Pioneer V Taps Major Findings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Blazing through cosmic ray blizzards, giant electric currents and magnetic fields, America's Pioneer V space probe has tapped a batch of major new space findings.

Scientists who reported this Friday indicated the discoveries would help to solve problems about the sun's influences on the earth's weather and communications; aid toward coping with space radiation that endangers manned space flight; and perhaps shed new light on the physical nature of the solar system.

At Conferences

The disclosures were made at a news conference held by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at about the time the 94.8-pound space messenger passed the 6,700,000-mile mark of its long orbit around the sun.

These were the major findings reported:

1. History's first direct observation of pure cosmic rays — that is, cosmic rays detected at altitudes completely free of the earth's atmosphere.

Pioneer made the observations at three million miles altitude while riding through a storm of such rays kicked up by a great sunspot. That sunspot bedeviled radio communications on earth and caused spectacular displays of northern and southern lights.

2. Evidence that the earth's magnetic field at times acts like a superpower dynamo to help feed dangerous radiation particles from the sun into one of the Van Allen radiation belts which offer a hazard to space travel.

Confirmation

Definite confirmation of the existence of a gigantic current of electricity encircling the earth at altitude, and seething with a current of five million amperes. Its existence has been argued for more than half a century.

4. Definite pinning down of the existence of a disturbed magnetic field in space at between 40,000 and 60,000 miles from the earth, and independent of the earth's own magnetic field. This shows that the interplanetary boundary of the earth's own field is twice as far out as was previously supposed.

Feast To Be Noted On Sunday

THE Feast of St. Philip and St. James, Apostles, will be observed in Christ Episcopal Church, Stroudsburg, on Sunday. Services scheduled are Holy Communion 8 a.m.; Family Service and Church School 9:30; Choral Communion and Sermon 11 a.m. Of these two Apostles, Philip and James, we have almost nothing except their names.

St. John records that Philip was one of the earliest followers of our Lord, a fellow townsman of Andrew and Peter, and that he brought his friend Nathanael to Jesus.

The James commemorated in this feast is "James the Less," the son of Alphaeus, and not James the son of Zebedee. In church tradition he has been mistakenly identified with James the brother of the Lord and head of the early church in Jerusalem; and this explains why there is no separate holy day in the Calendar devoted to our Lord's brother, the first Bishop of the Jerusalem Church, the mother Church of Christendom.

The association of Philip and James in the same feast and the date of the observance were set by the dedication of the Basilica of the Apostles at Rome on this day sometime in the pontificate of Pope John III, 561-574 A.D.

The Master's Touch

God must love beauty, to use it so lavishly. The Master Artist dapples the soft green leaves with golden sunshine, turns the brook to flowing crystal, and puts a song into Spring itself.

There is beauty in us, too . . . because He put it there. In His sight, none of us are ugly, none of us are forsaken, none of us are "lost."

But sometimes, in the busy process of day-to-day living, we turn blind eyes upon the world's loveliness, and take for granted the gifts which should brighten the hours and years. We need a faith that gives us vision to find again the inner beauty He gave us in the beginning . . . a gift which He never takes away. Let us go, then, to His Church. Let us "enter into His gates with thanksgiving . . . for the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His Truth endureth forever."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Softness Of Youth

We have heard comment recently about the "softness" of American youth. If such a condition exists, what is the cause?

Could it be the result of the state (government) assuming greater and greater control over the individual — his schooling, his work, his income, his savings, his death and his estate—in other words, cradle to the grave supervision?

We now read that the New York City Board of Education sanctions a short course for junior and senior high schools next year, the purpose of which is to teach how to have a happy home. The course will include "group dating, double dating, single dating, steady dating" and the development of "qualities that make one popular."

The assumption that normal young people need such instruction is virtually an insult to their intelligence, but it is a good example of state direction of the individual.

If such public instruction doesn't produce "softness" and lack of self-reliance in young people, it will be because of their native intelligence.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Grow Up, Go Home

There are times when we are torn between thinking that there should be more recreational outlets for youngsters to prevent them from becoming so-called juvenile delinquents and the like or planned programs such as practiced for the youth of our city, as Russell Thomas points out that only a small fraction of teen-agers are really bad.

We hold with the belief that the young people and adults as well can be served through better recreation facilities whether through parks, playgrounds, tennis courts, beaches and the like or planned programs such as practiced for the youth of our city, as Russell Thomas points out that only a small fraction of teen-agers are really bad.

We have heard the plea for curfews in large cities, and in some small towns, to keep youngsters off the streets and therefore out of trouble—or perhaps it is just out of sight. We have heard parents chided rather viciously for their lack of interest in their offspring—although we think that the great majority of parents are not at all guilty of this feeling.

There has also been the feeling expressed here that "work facilities" are needed for the young folks of Sarasota. The YES program, Youth Employment Service, was established last year under the sponsorship of the Sarasota Kiwanis Club. This is an excellent plan and has contributed materially to the well-being of many a teen-ager.

And then there is a core composed of people who think "coddling" the teen-ager has been the worst thing that could have happened. There are not many spokesmen of this one who can talk to teen-agers in language they can understand and even respect.

However, a nationally known juvenile judge in Denver—Judge Philip Gilliam—took it upon himself recently to talk things out in eloquent language which may be classed as brutal in some respects. It has a lilt to it, this language has, and a wealth of common sense which should be read by every parent and every teen-ager.

This is what he said: "Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teen-ager: What can we do? . . . Where can we go? The answer is GO HOME. Hang the storm window, paint the sidewalk. Rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk. Wash the car, learn to cook, scrub the floors. Repair the sink, build a garden, get a job. Help the minister, priest, or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons, and then when you are through—and not too tired—read a book."

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living. . . . You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick and lonely again. In plain, simple words, GROW UP, quit being a cry baby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like people."

"You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibility your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, helped, appealed, begged, excused, tolerated, and denied themselves needed comforts so that you could have every benefit. This they have done gladly, for you are their dearest treasure. But now you have no right to expect them to bow to every whim and fancy just because selfish ego instead of common sense dominates your personality, thinking and requests. In Heaven's name, GROW UP and GO HOME!"

Obstacle Race

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Party Planks

It has been announced that Rep. Chester Bowles heads the formidable committee that will write the Democratic Platform. Who will perform this task for the Republicans has not yet been stated.

This is probably the most useless task to which a man can devote himself. Party platforms serve no particular purpose because the parties abandon them immediately after the election.

Both party platforms will have much to say about our international relations.

Chester Bowles has made himself expert on the affairs of Asia with particular emphasis on India where he was the American Ambassador. His views on China may be summarized in this paragraph:

" . . . Communist China constitutes an extremely live danger not only because of its ideology but also because of the inadequacy of its resource base in comparison to its population. Indeed, I suggest that Communist China constitutes almost a classic type of potential aggressor, similar to Nazi Germany of the 1930's and Japan in the period between the two wars."

The Republicans cannot do other than to praise the record of the Eisenhower policies which, while opportunistic and often conflicting, may be summarized in the phrase, "He kept us out of war."

President Eisenhower embarked on his career by bringing the Korean War to an end without any solution of the Korean problem which continues to be a problem up to this moment.

This was undoubtedly an index to Eisenhower's thinking, namely, that war must be averted at any cost save the invasion of American territory. How much such a policy has cost in money and potentials will not be calculable for many years; its benefits are also not clear except that war has been averted.

This has added much to President Eisenhower's personal popularity but has it strengthened the United States?

Both parties will have to

Cecil Weidman and Al Zateeny are two well-known figures in the Stroudsburgs. Both gents, super service fellows, have their ups and downs though, especially when it comes to arguments over the value of golf. The other night Cecil and Al really went at it hot and heavy. So much in fact that State Trooper Pete Walsh had to intervene.

Now don't get us wrong this was a pure and simple nice battle of words between two nice gentlemen and brother Trooper Walsh only added to the humor of it all.

Incidentally all were the best of friends before and after.

Certainly is great to see level-headed Dr. John Lim back in harness as a school director. The Stroudsburg physician, a former president of the Stroud Union School Board, was appointed to fill a vacancy last week.

Dr. Lim's efficient duties of the past pressures people of a top flight representation on the board.

Interpreting The News

Suppress News, Invite Explosion

By J. M. Roberts, Associated Press News Analyst

Any time you see a government which feels it is necessary to suppress the means of communication among its people, you are a government which both fears and invites an explosion.

For years, now, the Turkish government has been jailing editors and closing down newspapers which criticized it.

Persecution of opposing political parties has been a standard practice, and public discussion of it has been banned.

But Turkey for centuries has been afraid of Russia, in all the latter's political guises and the stages of its territorial aggrandizement. One of the Soviet Union's first postwar claims was for Turkish territory.

St. Turkey is a staunch member of both NATO and CENTO, the Western and Middle Eastern anti-Communist alliances. And so there has been no great Western outcry against the undemocratic practices of its government, just as in the cases of Cuba's Batista, South Korea's Rhee, and all the other tyrannical regimes which have bought their licenses by opposing communism.

But these regimes, unlike those of the Communists, have made the mistake of letting their young people learn about democracy.

Turkish youths fighting for the freedom of others made a great name for themselves in Korea.

Now South Korea youth have reminded them that freedom begins at home.

Turkey is the southeastern anchor of the Western front. The anchor's firmness is vitally affected by the country's stability.

Prime Minister Adnan Menderes, whose resignation is being demanded by the demonstrators, is unable to attend a CENTO alliance meeting because of the crisis at home.

The Big Three Western foreign ministers and the NATO foreign ministers plan to meet in Istanbul over the next few days in pre-summit discussions.

The Turkish students, apparently fired up by the success of democratic factions in Korea in recent days, could not have chosen a better moment to bring their complaints before the world if they had planned things deliberately.

The long trail of freedom through history is marked by the bodies of those who have fought for it. Yet, as Pindar, the Greek poet put it 2,000 years ago, their efforts "are not lost in darkness, neither hath counting the cost fretted away the zeal of their hopes."

The Allen-Scott Report

May Lose Second Job

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — The chances are strong that Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler will lose his second job.

Rev. and Mrs. William Dennis of Bangor will be special guests today at the inauguration ceremonies for the president of Pennsylvania Military College.

The Dennis, he is pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Bangor, will see the cadet review as well as the new president, Dr. Clarence Moll.

Dr. Moll is Mrs. Dennis' uncle.

Two potent reasons are behind these anticipatory "I quit" pronouncements.

Butler has no choice in giving up the national chairmanship. It's a case of his either leaving voluntarily or being replaced. The long-embattled national chairman knows he is through regardless of who is nominated at Los Angeles. All the candidates have made that very clear to him.

Even if ousted as national

Indiana Democratic leaders are busily setting the stage to oust Butler as national committeeman, at a meeting of the 22-member state committee on May 14 in Indianapolis.

Alexander Campbell, former assistant U.S. attorney general is the choice of the anti-Butler forces to succeed him.

Spearheading this inner party drive is Frank McKinney, who was national chairman under President Truman and, like him, is supporting the presidential candidacy of Sen. Stuart Symington, with Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson as second choice. Campbell also favors that combination.

According to McKinney, 11 of the 22 state committeemen already are definitely lined up for Campbell. Of the others, nine are listed as "leaning" toward Butler, and two against both him and Campbell. They don't want anyone from either faction.

Butler's partisans think so little of his prospects that they want him to quit, and back State Sen. Marshall Kizer, co-chairman of Senator Kennedy's campaign in Indiana. Kizer would like to be national committeeman, but is uncertain whether a boost from Butler would help or hurt him.

Even if ousted as national committeeman, Butler would continue in that office until after the Los Angeles convention. But it would be one more political and personal setback.

He would go to the convention as a party leader in little more than a name only.

Latest Coat - Tail - Sen. Wayne Morse is preparing to give a new twist to his so-far little noticed campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Oregonian will start boosting the "draft Stevenson" movement.

Clutching on to Stevenson's coat-tails is apparently Morse's latest strategy to make headway in the May 17 Maryland primary and the May 20 Oregon primary. In the former, Morse is definitely getting nowhere, and in the latter, backstage indications are that he is losing ground.

It is highly significant that not one of Oregon's Democratic congressmen is supporting him.

Rep. Edith Green is backing Sen. Kennedy; Rep. Charles Porter is boosting Senator Humphrey; and Rep. Al Ullman is carefully staying on the sidelines.

Also latest Oregon polls show Kennedy a close second to Morse and gaining while the latter has been losing; Stevenson is third, although his name will not be on the ballot; and Humphrey is fourth.

In Maryland, not a single Democratic leader has sided with Morse. Also, the latest poll shows him running far behind Kennedy.

So on May 5, in Chevy Chase, Md., a Washington suburb, Morse is addressing a "draft Stevenson" rally. His theme will be that a vote for him will be a vote for Stevenson. This ballot-winning line will be repeated by Morse at other "draft Stevenson" meetings in Maryland, Oregon and other states.

At a labor gathering in Baltimore, with an attendance of about 100, Morse admitted he had "little chance" of winning in Maryland. He attributed this to the "political powerhouse" organized against him by Kennedy. However, Morse said he hopes to win from 35 to 45 percent of the Maryland vote, which he claimed would be a "striking moral victory."

Politics — Senator Albert Gore, Tenn., will be the Permanent Chairman, and Wisconsin's Governor Gaiyard Nelson the keynote at the Los Angeles convention. They are the choices of National Chairman Paul Butler, and his hand-picked Arrangements Committee will announce these selections at its May meeting in Washington.

California's National Committeeman Paul Ziffren, at a pressconference several months ago, went out of his way to take a slap at the presidential prospects of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson. Yet a week ago, during an unpublished trip to Washington, Ziffren tried to see Johnson — but was bluntly rebuffed.

The District of Columbia primary race between Senators Morse and Humphrey has developed into a name-calling furor among their campaign managers. A. L. Wheeler, a Morse leader and chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, has hotly denounced F. Joseph (Jiggs) Donahue, a Humphrey booster.

Donahue was 1956 campaign manager for Sen. Estes Kefauver, and Frank Reeves, prominent Negro lawyer, who is running for national committeeman on Humphrey's ticket, has been sharply assailed by J. C. Turner, head of the Washington Central Labor Council, and Morse lieutenant.

Reports From Congress

State Spending High

By Congressional Quarterly

Washington — State government income and spending broke all previous records in 1959, climbing over the $30 billion mark for the first time.

A Congressional Quarterly survey based on Census Bureau studies shows that in fiscal 1959, state spending rose 11.6 percent over 1958, reaching $32 billion for the 50 states. Revenues jumped 10.5 percent to a new high of $31.6 billion.

On a per capita basis, income amounted to $178.96 per person during the year and spending to $181.44 if borrowing and debt redemption are included in the computation. If borrowing and debt redemption are not counted, income per capita was $166.15 and spending $177.32.

The latest figures reflected the steady upward trend during the decade of the 1950s. For both income and expenditures, the 1959 totals were more than double the $15.6 billion in income and $15.3 billion in spending marked up in fiscal 1951.

(and longer) for a confirmation, despite denials and denials. It required one long year to confirm our polio vaccine. We reported that not all of it was safe. The controversy that followed was rough. But, happily, they made it safer.

John Crosby, the tv critic, continues hammering the ratings system. To wit: "Nielsen can tell you what 1050 families are looking at or not looking at this week. Those 1050 families are not only NOT a true sample of 170,000,000 Americans; they are not even a true sample of themselves. Because they are listening to 'Gunsmoke' this week doesn't mean they're going to listen next week—or ever again. People are more complex than that."

Mr. Crosby is correct. Ratings systems equate people with numbers. While one plus one equals two, there is no equation when you add one person plus one person. Human beings just don't add up — which helps explain why psychiatrists get rich. Incidentally, it often takes years for a highly-trained psychiatrist to discover what one human being is thinking, whereas the ratings systems presume to tell you what millions are thinking in a few hours.

Attention, Publishers: One of the more infuriating aspects of colymizing is the ravaging of deathless prose along the syndicate. The editorial pencil requires surgical care and precision. Unfortunately, it is often wielded like a butcher's cleaver. Being naturally optimistic, we trust editors will gain a degree of understanding from the following: Don Marquis, the long-ago colymist, turned out a colym for over a year without attracting much attention. One day, he decided to present his pillar in a more attractive format. Soon after he transformed the make-up of his colym it became his paper's most popular feature—although the standard of the colym's material remained constant.

—Walter Winchell

Covering the human adventure has its pitfalls for newspapermen. The satisfaction of having a story confirmed is exceeded only by the frustration of having it denied. Frequently, the denials are downright incredible. The latest Harry Truman incident, for example, He contended he was misquoted on a statement he made about Negro sit-down demonstrators in Dixie. The following day, it was disclosed that Truman's statement was on tape. And despite the tape-recording — which proved papers had quoted him accurately — Truman continued to deny he said it.

The ultimate in the daffy denial category happened some years ago: A Presidential press secretary requested reporters to deny a report that the Chief Executive was trying to censor reporters. Following publication of the denials, the press secretary once again called in newsmen and repeated the denial of the original censorship — and then asked that they refrain from either publishing his original request or his denial.

Our recent report about Suzy Parker's marriage being asunder was denied by Miss Parker. So this is to give added credence to her published denial. For several years she denied being married — until we made public her marriage license. The lovely Suzy has frequently confessed to reporters: "I never lie, I just exaggerate."

The foregoing recalls Marilyn Monroe's original white-lies about her romance with Arthur Miller. "Why, he's a married man," she baby-stared.

Cancer Fund Drive Short Of Quota

EDWIN Krawitz, cancer crusade chairman, said last night "The drive is just $1,813 short of meeting its quota of $7,500."

He added, "As of today there have been no counties reporting to state headquarters that they have gone over their quota."

Monroe County was the first to report that they had gone over their quota last year and it is hoped that they can do the same this year.

Krawitz asked all workers that have not turned in their collection to do so on or before Monday, at the Cancer Crusade office at 615 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, or if unable to come to the office to call Mrs. Baggett and report the amount.

Wayne Phone Calls Under Investigation

SOME telephone numbers in Wayne County are coming under scrutiny of the New York State Investigation Commission. Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack, Jr., of Massachusetts told the commission yesterday that the probes are currently underway. They came to light during an investigation of a summing meeting of gambling syndicate leaders at a Worcester, Mass., hotel and restaurant last December.

McCormack said some of the delegates attending the convention were from Pennsylvania, but he did not name specific communities.

Judges and inspectors can be called in to complete the forms. A spokesman for the commission said one district in East Stroudsburg failed to note the vote on the proposal of harness racing with pari-mutuel betting and the Paradise Township district failed to fill out its report as required by law.

Local Man, Jacobs Co. Are Fined

ROBERT H. PINDER of Stroudsburg and J. L. Jacobs and Co., Chicago, Ill., were fined $1,000 each yesterday by the New Jersey State Board of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors.

The board announced in Trenton that the Jacobs firm was charged with preparing tax maps for five townships when no member of the firm was a licensed land surveyor in New Jersey.

Pinder was fined for doing the work for the Jacobs firm without a New Jersey license.

The Jacobs company established an office here when it was hired to direct the Monroe County reassessment program.

Count Starts On Ballots

MONROE COUNTY Commissioners, sitting as the county election board, yesterday began the official tally of ballots cast in Tuesday's primary election.

A final figure was not available yesterday. Two districts did not complete their forms and a final tally will not be available until the election judges and inspectors can be called in to complete the forms.

A spokesman for the commission said one district in East Stroudsburg failed to note the vote on the proposal of harness racing with pari-mutuel betting and the Paradise Township district failed to fill out its report as required by law.

Just Between Us —

— By Bobby Westbrook

This is the season of year that always reminds me of the game of musical chairs. Except instead of chairs, the game is to snare a president, already well-broken in to the ways of club routine.

They are really hard to come by and more to be prized than fine gold. It might be easy enough if all a president had to do was preside graciously at meetings and make a good appearance.

But there's more to it than that, which takes years of training in committees and club work. You have to be a personnel director, extraordinary, to persuade other people to take on a whole lot of work at no pay; a salesman for federated ideas when the members want to go wandering off on their own; a lawyer for parliamentary procedure; a public relations man for community support; a diplomat to keep peace in the club family.

Like widows watching the obituary column for prospects, nominating committees watch whose term is expiring and try to nab them fast. Judy Wells, for instance, was president of the Junior Woman's Club, then the Seniors and now the county federation.

Trudi Hellmann, once finished with her responsibilities for Clearview and Stroud Union PTA presidency, is drafted for Planned Parenthood.

Shirley Cummings having served the Junior Women, Stroud Community Club and Mental Health is just finishing with the Monroe - Pike Deaneary presidency.

And when a new president emerges on any scene the mental filing cabinets go into action. Somebody should have warned Dick Primrose, though. Being Middle Smithfield PTA president while Diane is only in kindergarten is going to get him on the treadmill awfully early in the game.

And presidents are never allowed to grow tired, indifferent or sensitive and never, never to have a recess between organizations. That might give them time to realize that there are an awful lot of members who haven't done anything.

HOT-WEATHER FAVORITE — a six ounce suit of dacron and Australian worsted, this suit by LeBow features skip stitched patch pockets and edges, close spacing of buttons, and mini-notched lapels.

So Men's Fashions Don't Change? Take A Look At New Fabrics, Colors, Cut

Now that the bills for the Easter outfits for the women in the family are in, the men are eyeing their own wardrobes critically, especially with this year's rapid transition from winter to summer temperatures.

They may be surprised at what they see in the fashions for men which will play a large part in the Vacation time Fashion Show to be held in conjunction with the Hotel Show here next week.

The changes in men's fashions are measured by the millimeter but they do change. Otherwise how come there are so many suits with broad lapels and padded shoulders hanging in the back of the closet?

The Continental look, pioneered last Summer by LeBow of New York, is now firmly established with its cut-away front, narrower lapels, flapless pockets and cuffless trousers.

The news for this Summer centers on color and fabric rather than cut. Lighter colors are edging in, often achieved through plaids, including the revival of the Glen Ughardt plaid; a new Devon blue, more cheerful than the traditional navy; and jet black. Carrying out the olive tones of winter are Summer shades, including one called "ripe olive."

The new synthetics, combining dacron polyester with other fabrics, can produce a suit weighing less than six ounces.

There are also luxury fabrics such as Italian silks or handwoven silk from India. For resort wear and sports, the men really can go gay with holiday checks and plaids, or blazer-type jackets with boater-striped trousers.

Cool comfort, wash and wear, travel ease are offered in men's wear but the clincher is that the new fashions also make them look taller, slimmer and oh so much more debonair.

LAW DAY U.S.A. MAY FIRST

May 1 is LAW DAY U.S.A. as proclaimed by President Eisenhower. The President said in his LAW DAY 1960 proclamation:

"One of the greatest heritages of American citizenship is a government of law before which all men stand as equals; the dedication of our people to freedom under law has made possible the remarkable growth and development of our society in all its aspects.

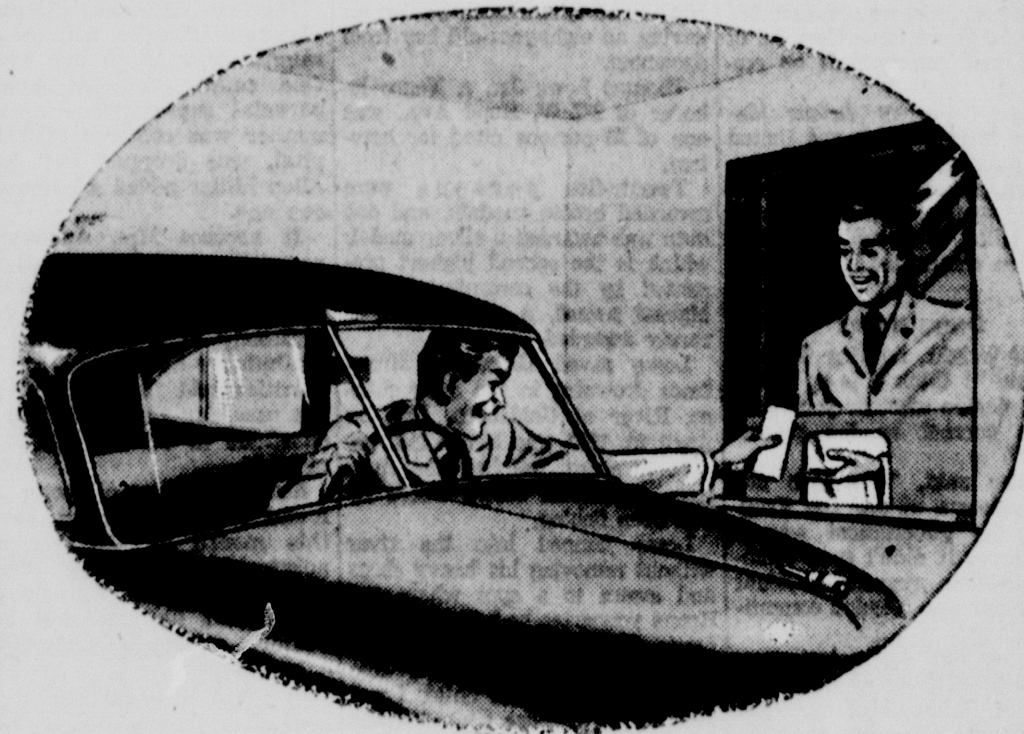

"The observance of LAW DAY is designed to foster a deeper respect for law and an awareness of its essential place in American life, as well as to encourage the efforts now being made to bring about an extension of law as an instrument of world peace and orderly progress in all international relationships for the future benefit of mankind.

"I urge the people of the United States to observe LAW DAY with appropriate ceremonies as a public demonstration of their devotion to the rule of law as the keystone of peace and order in our national and international life."

We salute the men and women of America who daily strive to uphold, obey and defend the laws of our land and thereby help preserve our cherished constitutional American freedoms. Citizens everywhere should join in the national LAW DAY observances May 1 and reaffirm their dedication to the American system of Government and to the rule of law as the foundation of a free society.

Lower Down Payments In Effect

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lower down payments on FHA-insured houses selling for $15,000 or more were made effective Friday.

In announcing this, Housing Commissioner Julian H. Zimmerman also held out the possibility that FHA soon may be able to reduce the insurance premium paid by all home buyers who have FHA mortgages. However, Congress would have to authorize such action.

Lower down payments were authorized by Congress last September, but Zimmerman said the administration had delayed putting them into effect because of tight money conditions.

What It Will Mean

Here's what Friday's action will mean to home buyers: On a $15,000 house, the new minimum down payment is $500 compared with the old requirement of $650. At $16,000 it is $700 instead of $800, at $17,000 it is $800 instead of $1,100 and at $18,000 it is $900 instead of $1,400.

At all levels above $18,000 down payments now are $500 less than in the past.

The reductions mean, of course, a corresponding increase in the monthly mortgage payments to be made by home buyers.

Zimmerman told a news conference that when mortgage money is tight, an easing of mortgage terms has little impact on home building. However, he said a recent easing of credit coupled with Friday's lowering of down payments should stimulate construction activity.

He forecast a further significant easing of credit within the next six weeks and said his belief was based on an expectation of economic stability.

Government Rests Labor Bribery Case

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The government rested its labor bribery case against a Pennsylvania anthracite mine operator Friday. The judge promptly rejected a defense motion for acquittal.

The all-made jury was dismissed by U.S. District Judge Caleb M. Wright until Tuesday when the defense for Robert L. Dougherty, of Wyoming, will begin. It is expected to take at least a day.

The 61-year-old Dougherty, who operates two mines in the heart of northeastern Pennsylvania's hard coal belt, is accused of violating the Taft-Hartley law by making illegal payments in 1967 and 1968 to Dominic Alaimo, United Mine Workers committeeman, in exchange for labor peace.

Dougherty then was president of the now defunct Knox Coal Co. of Exeter and Alaimo was an employee.

Defense attorney Arthur Maguire, a former judge and United States attorney, in a two-hour plea for acquittal, said the government—after five days and 16 witnesses—had failed to prove any crime had been committed by Dougherty.

Denys Motion

Judge Wright, denying the motion, said "I think it is up to the jury to decide whether your position is correct or the government's."

Maguire said, "No case has been made out at all. The struggle of the government was a death throes. It didn't even establish without a reasonable doubt that Alaimo was a union committeeman."

Most of the day's testimony came from FBI Agent Robert L. Boylan of Dallas, Pa., who took the stand late Thursday. He testified under cross-examination that criminal charges against Dougherty developed after the United States began investigation of persons who attended the 1957 crime convention in Apalachin, N. Y.

Alaimo was among those present at that gangland meeting, said Boylan. His investigation of "the history and life" of Alaimo led to an interview with Dougherty in March, 1958, concerning the work Alaimo was doing at Knox.

Knox went out of business in January, 1959, after the Susquehanna River flooded its workings at Port Griffith, killing 12 miners.

Attended Meet

Boylan said three other Pittston men attended the Apalachin meeting with Alaimo. He identified them as Angelo Sciarra, a cousin of Alaimo; Russell Bufalino and James Ostico. These three were convicted of conspiracy for refusing to tell what happened at Apalachin, and were sentenced to five years in prison. All are appealing.

Alaimo, named only as a co-conspirator but not indicted, has been convicted of accepting labor bribes from Dougherty. He seeks a new trial on this charge.

Boylan said Dougherty told him he employed Alaimo as a watchman at Knox and also had him on the payroll of Peeley Mining Co. of Warrior Run, which Dougherty himself owns.

Payroll Records

The judge authorized the government to place in evidence Tuesday payroll records of Alaimo at the Peeley firm.

Knox was owned by Louis Fa-

Boehm Reappointed Head Of Pennsylvania Schools

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. Charles H. Boehm, one of the more controversial figures in Gov. Lawrence's cabinet, was reappointed superintendent of public instruction Friday.

Lawrence commissioned him to serve until the expiration of the present legislative session. Meanwhile, he said, he would submit the 57-year-old Bucks County educator's name to the Senate for confirmation to a full four-year term. The Senate returns June 6.

The commission is effective May 17, upon expiration of Boehm's original four-year term as leading administrator of the state's public schools and state-owned colleges.

The reappointment was expected; Lawrence said several weeks ago he planned to do so.

Since he was appointed by former Gov. Leader in 1956, Boehm's role as superintendent has been marked by frequent clashes with other educators and with legislators.

A short, round, balding man with a perpetual look of merriment on his face, Boehm is a man of outspoken views, delivered with almost unquibbling speed.

Boehm, a Republican, has his home in Morrisville. He was Bucks County superintendent when Governor tapped him for the state job.

York Man Awarded Hero Medal

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 35-year-old York, Pa., man was awarded a bronze medal by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission Friday for saving an eight-year-old boy from drowning.

Thomas Lowe Jr., a Negro laborer of 332 W. Hope Ave., was one of 26 persons cited for heroism.

Twenty-five persons were awarded bronze medals, and one man was awarded a silver medal, which is the second highest presented by the commission. The highest award, a gold medal, is rarely awarded.

Lowe saved Galen H. Krone from drowning in the Susquehanna River at Goldsboro, Pa., on April 29, 1959. The Krone lad, unable to swim, fell into the river from a moored barge where he had been fishing.

Lowe jumped into the river without removing his heavy shoes and swam to a spot where the Krone youngster had disappeared. Lowe dove beneath the surface three times before he was able to get a hold of the child. Lowe then swam to shore while holding the child's head above water.

bozo, of Yatesville, and Mrs. Josephine Sciarra, of Exeter. Dougherty, however, collected one-third of the profits, as manager of the firm, Boylan testified.

Boylan, testifying about three interviews with Dougherty, said the mine operator admitted knowing that Alaimo was a union committeeman and that he did not have any labor trouble at Knox.

Concerning Peeley, Boylan said Dougherty told him that although Alaimo was paid as a watchman he never was on the mine property "but would circulate among the bars and spy on the miners and report labor unrest so Dougherty could nip in the bud any union trouble."

The government brought out that the Peeley firm was represented by a different UMW local, and that Alaimo wasn't a member of this union.

World Church Council Aide Cites South Africa Problem

THE general secretary of the World Council of Churches says that despite progress in the church situation in South Africa "changes do not go far enough" to meet adequately the rapidly developing situation.

Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, Geneva, Switzerland, told 200 delegates to the annual meeting of the U.S. Conference for the World Council of Churches, at Buck Hill Falls, that no church in South Africa any longer maintains that apartheid is to be defended on a biblical basis.

"Voices challenging the apartheid policy have been heard from Christian leaders, including some of the Dutch Reformed Church, and there is certainly more fraternal inter-racial contact than there used to be," he said.

Changes Too Slow

But the changes are too slow, he continued. He cited a statement made at a conference of the Dutch Reformed Churches in South Africa a decade ago. It said that "no people in the world worth their salt will be content indefinitely with no say or only an indirect say, in the affairs of the State or the socio-economic organization of the country in which decisions are taken about their interests and future."

Dr. Visser 't Hooft observed that for some time the challenge to statesmanship in South Africa has been how to avoid having the masses permeated by a sense of frustration which could only have the most dangerous results for the future of the country.

"The tragedy is that the majority of white South Africans have not faced these obvious facts. We must hope that after the tragic events of recent weeks their eyes will be opened before it is too late. Our task is to help them before it is too late he said.

No Assets

"More condemnation and threats will hardly improve this situation," he warned. And in any case the ecumenical way is the way of fraternal conversation, of persuasion and of reconciliation."

Lutheran Delegates Are Elected

UNITED LUTHERAN Church convention delegates were elected and others nominated for Synodical election at the annual spring meeting of the Lutheran church's Eastern District at Christ Lutheran Church, Mt. Bethel.

Forty congregations of the district were represented.

The October ULCA convention will consider merger proposals with three other Lutheran bodies, it was announced.

Elected were: Atty. George Robinson, Stroudsburg, and the Rev. Dean Glenn Neubauer, Wilson.

Elect to be placed on the Synodical ballot for delegates were Richard Shadlinger, Plumsteadville; Carl Veit, Easton; and the Rev. William E. Dennis, Bangor, secretary of the district.

The Rev. Charles Ruloff, Stroudsburg, will appear as a nominee on the ballot for trustee of Good Shepherd Home, Allentown.

Reports of progress were presented by the several committees, including announcement of a district councilmen's dinner October 5 at the Penn-Stroud hotel, Stroudsburg.

The Rev. William Wunder, East Stroudsburg, presented a report of the District Lutheran World Action committee, in which he stated that 93% of last year's goal had been met.

REMINISCING — Miss Elizabeth Martin, left, secretary of the board of directors, Monroe County Children's Aid Society and Edwin D. Solenberger, right, secretary emeritus of Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania, engage in reminiscences at a luncheon meeting of the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania and affiliated agencies in Harrisburg, Tuesday, April 26. Miss Martin gave a report on the past year's activities of the Monroe County Children's Aid Society.

Stroud Union Student Offered Lehigh Admission

BETHLEHEM—One Stroud Union High School student is among the men offered admission to this fall's freshman class at Lehigh University who attended the last of two Candidates' Days today. A similar group was entertained Saturday, April 9.

Area students attending included: John Choberka, 115 Lee Avenue, Stroudsburg.

Dr. Charles A. Seidle, director of admission, introduced the special feature of the day, a showing of Watchman on the Mountain, a new color film about Lehigh University.

Dr. Martin D. Whitaker, president, welcomed the candidates on behalf of the University. Dr. Glenn J. Christensen, dean of the College of Arts and Science; Dr. Herbert M. Diamond, professor of economics in the College of Business Administration; and Dean Loyal V. Bewley, of the College of Engineering, discussed academic opportunities in their respective colleges. The prospective students also heard Philip C. Mezey, Plandome, N. Y., junior and president of Arcadia, student council, who was introduced by Dr. Seidle.

The meeting and the luncheon which followed in Packer Hall, the University Center, were attended by 310 secondary school seniors.

The class of 1964 is now being selected from 3200 applicants, representing 1033 secondary schools in 31 states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 11 foreign countries.

New Course Slated For ES College

EAST Stroudsburg State College will sponsor a new course on Outdoor Education, to be conducted from May 30th to June 10th.

The course will be divided into several phases including lectures on the administrative aspects of camping; practical camping; survival activities by the class; and demonstrations by outside resource people, such as representatives from the arms and ammunition companies, casting and angling equipment companies, Fish Commission, Game Commission, and Forestry Commission, American Red Cross Water Safety Division, Archery Manufacturers, and Boat, Canoe, and Outdoor Motor demonstrations.

In addition, evening campfires, cookouts, and overnight trips away from the campus will be carried on so that each individual will have the opportunity to put into practice those knowledge encountered during the class meetings.

The overnight campouts will be taken to nearby State Parks. Information on the course may be secured by writing to the Recreation Department in care of the College.

The United States and the United Kingdom are the last major holdouts against the metric system of weights and measures.

Power Capability Increases

GENERATING capability of the electric power industry in the United States will reach 170.5 million KW by the end of this year according to the 27th Semi-Annual Power Survey just published by the Edison Electric Institute. This is an increase of about 7.5% from the total capability recorded at the end of 1959.

The E.E.I. Power Survey covers practically the entire electric power industry of the country including both investor-owned system and those of governmental agencies—federal and non-federal.

Chas. E. Oakes, chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, which is one of the corporate members of the nationwide E. E. I. organization today commented on the survey results.

"This most recent appraisal gives further proof that America's electric power systems are doing an excellent job," he said. "It shows the power supply not only is expanding in step with demand but also is reinforced by a reserve margin of more than 27%, as estimated for next December."

May Hit 770 Billion
The new survey indicates that electric energy output in 1960 will reach 770 billion KWHs, an 8.8% increase over the production figure recorded by the industry for 1959. Longer range forecasts bring a startling new figure into the power production picture, with nationwide production estimated at one trillion for 1963. Total capability of the industry at the end of 1963 is expected to be 203 million KW, about four times that of 1948. For the 15-year period 1948-1963 the annual increase in capability will average 9.2%.

Mr. Oakes pointed out that expansion of electric power supply in Central Eastern Pennsylvania is typified by recent additions to PP&L facilities. These include implementation of the 300,000 KV cross-compound generator at PP&L's 46 million dollar plant at Brunner Island near York Haven, Pa., scheduled to go into service in 1961; construction of $4 million 220 KV West Shore Substation which will become a major regional bulk supply station of the Harrisburg area; establishment of the one million dollar Walnut Substation in Harrisburg; a 16 to 18 mile span of 220,000 volt line eastward from the Brunner Island Plant tying into the company's existing 220 KV system at its South Akron Substation in Lancaster County; a $400,000 supply line substation which will provide a new major supply for the growing West Bethlehem area; the construction of the $375,000 66 KV line connecting PP&L's Lancaster Division Lavinio and Spring Substations, plus many other large and small projects under way in PP&L's service area.

since 1947, the E.E.I. power survey is the most complete continuing study of this kind. In addition to forecasts of peak power demand and supply capabilities on a regional and national basis, it also presents information on scheduled production of heavy electric power equipment and open manufacturing capacity.

Oakes, one time president of E.E.I. and head of many of its important committees, is currently chairman of the Committee on Power Capacity and Pooling.

THE SHOT THAT SAVED THE MATCH — Dr. Ray Lebel, a dentist from Portland, Me., uses a chipping iron to roll his ball two-feet from the pin on the 18th hole in the Shawnee Invitational. Dr. Lebel eliminated Harm Wade, Boundbrook, N. J., 1-up.

SECOND ACE — Mahlon Smith, New Providence, N. J., scored his second hole-in-one in three years at Shawnee Inn Friday. Smith, playing in the seventh flight of the Shawnee Invitational, used a six-iron to ace the 16th hole.

Upsets Claim Two Favorites In Shawnee Invitational Golf Event

By CURT PRINZ
Sports Editor

SHAWNEE—A drying sun brought out upsets and near upsets in the first round of the Shawnee Inn Invitational Golf Tournament Friday.

And the upsets came early on the Delaware River side course that was stretched to 6,755 yards for the championship flight.

Ray Noack, a seven-handicapper from Brooklyn, eliminated defending champion Dr. Leonard Buck, Bath, Me., 5 and 4 in the first match of the day.

Co-medalist Wally Sezna, Wilmington, Del. was also an early casualty, losing to Frank Myers, 4 and 3.

Lebel Squeaks By
The other medalist, Dr. Ray Lebel, Portland, Me., was four down after eight holes but played sensationally on the back side to send Harm Wade of Boundbrook, N. J., to the sidelines, 1-up.

John Dohoney gained Saturday's 36-hole double round by ousting Reg Worthington, Rumson, N.J., 1-up.

1-up and J. Schlegel and A. Boehm, Boundbrook, N. J., both former Shawnee County Club champions, went 21 holes before Schlegel won 1-up.

In the three other championship flight matches, D. Strafaci, Brooklyn, defeated Dr. C. Anderson, Winchester, Va., 1-up; Jack Prickett, Lafayette Hills, eliminated George Waller, Flemington, N. J., 2 and 1 and R. Lanno, New York City, beat Walt Anderson, Boundbrook, N. J., 4 and 3.

Advantage Lost
With the temperatures in the 80s and a warm wind drying the fairways, the long hitters lost much of the advantage they held in Thursday's qualifying round, when the fairways were still spongy from heavy rains Wednesday.

Noack, 34-year-old electrical equipment salesman, didn't have a birdie on his card but he never let Dr. Buck get ahead in the match that ended on the 14th hole.

Noack a two-handicapper until two years ago, when he turned to weekend golf, played as an amateur on the Professional Golf Assn. circuit in 1956.

Team Winners

Dr. Buck, who teamed with Dr. Lebel to win the Maine Two-Ball Championship in 1959, has had little chance to practice before the tournament. His home course in Maine has not opened for the summer.

Dr. Lebel bogied four straight holes to go four down to Wade going to the ninth hole. The 37-year-old New England dentist three putted, the fourth and seventh holes and failed to blast out of a trap on the sixth. It took his three shots to get home from the fringe on five. Wade won the four holes with pars.

"I was trying to kill the ball on every shot," Dr. Lebel, said of his poor start. "But my caddy got me to slow down and hit the ball easier and I started playing well at the ninth hole. I give all the credit for my win to the caddy."

Wins Ninth
Dr. Lebel won the ninth and 10th, lost the 11th and won the 12th and 13th. But he was still one down. Wade missed a four-foot putt at 15 after both had halved the 14th with pars and the match was even.

They both parred the 16th but Wade missed the green on 17 with his approach and lost the hole to Dr. Lebel's par. Wade had a chance to tie the match on the last hole, a 220-yard three par.

Dr. Lebel's tee shot narrowly missed a bunker and stopped 30 feet short of the green on a down hill lie.

Wade hit a three-wood 10 feet from pin on the downhill side.

Green Does Work
Dr. Lebel, using a chipping iron, dumped the ball on the green, well shot of the hole and let the sloping surface carry the ball toward the pin. The ball stopped even with the flag, two feet to the left.

Wade didn't allow for enough break on his putt and the ball skittered by the hole on the low side. Both players made their short putts to halve the hole but it wasn't enough to keep Wade in the running.

Marlon Scott, New Providence, N. J., playing in the seventh flight, scored a hole-in-one on the 140-yard, par-three 16th.

His six iron shot bounced twice on the green and rolled into the cup. But the ace didn't help too much. He was eliminated by Alfred Auriemma, Jersey City, 2 and 1. It was Scott's second hole-in-one at Shawnee in three years.

The championship quarter-finals and semi-finals are scheduled today with the finals on Sunday.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A legislative investigation of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Assn. was officially dead today.

The Joint State Government Commission has passed up a resolution adopted in the House last session directing it to look into the PIAA, ruling body over sports in Pennsylvania's public schools.

Snubbed Arena
The commission's action was expected. House and Senate leaders who make up its executive committee had shown little enthusiasm for the study. The commission conducts such investigations as the Legislature authorizes. However, it normally chooses only a handful of subjects for study out of the number offered every session. The executive committee met Thursday to decide on this year's studies.

The investigation had been asked early last year after the PIAA passed up the brand new basketball facilities in the Farm Show Arena to put the state Class A championship game in the Palestra in Philadelphia.

The resolution lay in committee for several months, however, and when it was finally brought to the floor and adopted the PIAA was ready to use the Farm Show Arena for this year's title game, held last month.

The commission also decided to follow through on resolutions directing studies of fishing conditions in the state (a House committee made its own study during the 1959 session) or the new federal boating act as it applies to Pennsylvania motorboat owners.

Brave's Adcock In Hospital

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee Braves' first baseman Joe Adcock entered a hospital Thursday night for treatment of a back ailment that has been bothering him since the middle of the month.

Dr. Bruce Brewer diagnosed the trouble as a strain and said Adcock probably would remain in Milwaukee Hospital through the weekend.

Virginia Horse Takes Second

NEWMARKET, England (AP)—Never Too Late, owned by Mrs. Howell E. Jackson of Middleburg, Va., won the 1,000 Guineaes Friday for the second major American success at Newmarket in three days.

Martial, owned by New Yorker Reginald N. Webster, captured the 2,000 Guineaes for 3-year-olds on Wednesday. The 1,000 Guineaes is a mile race for 3-year-old fillies.

This was announced Thursday as the AFL Executive Committee opened a meeting here.

The league's 56-game schedule with each of the eight clubs playing 14 games calls for at least 13 night games, three Saturday games, one Thanksgiving Day game and the others on Sunday. Eleven of the night games will be played on Fridays.

Analomink At Gordon Giffels

Pocono Mountain Loop Opens With 8 Games

POCONO Mountain Baseball League kicks off its 15th season Sunday with all but one team in action.

The openers find Saylorburg at Analomink, at Gordon Giffels Field, Stroudsburg; Bushkill at Tannersville, Barrett at Kunkletown and Readers at West End. Eastern Poconos has a bye. All games are at 2 p. m.

The league brass will get the inaugurals under way by throwing out the first ball. League President Clarence Smith, Carl Nauman, second vice president and John Wernett, the only officer who has been with the league since its beginning, will make the first tosses at three of the four games.

West End Favored
West End, playing out of Giffels, gets the nod as the favorites in the nine-team loop.

When the Lehigh Valley Legion team, last year's champion, did not reorganize, West End grabbed the Lehigh Valley manager, Glenn Warner and three of the club's top hitters.

West End manager, Webb Shafer, will miss the early part of the season. He is recovering from heart trouble.

Russ Kresge, who batted a lefty .377 last year, heads the West End holdovers. Paul Mertz, 410, Johnny Smith, 415 and Larry Hill 492, all with Lehigh Valley last season gave West End a loaded lineup. Denny

Roth, winners of 22 straight with Lehigh Valley, is also in the West End camp.

No Changes
Kunkletown, the pennant winner last year, has made no major changes in its lineup. Earl Mackes, son of manager Adam Mackes, was the club's leading hitter last year with a .475 and is counted on for most of Kunkletown's stick work.

Tannersville has changed managers, with Bruce Frantz taking over for Gib Bachman. The Tannersville entry lost five of its top players from last year's second place club and will have to depend on pitcher-shortstop Bob Hallett to carry the load. Hallett batted .441 last year.

Analomink manager Dick Miller feels he has enough horses to finish in the first division.

Pitchers Glen Woodling and George Kays are back but first baseman Dick Felker, who hit for a .446 mark last year is in the service.

Ebling Added
East Stroudsburg State College student Earl Ebling gives Miller an able receiver who can back up Lou Fish.

Readers must rise or fall on the strength of 17-year-old Paul Frailay. The young right hander will be backed by Larry Butz, who can double at third. Bushkill, loaded with veterans, is looking for an improvement over last year, when it won only six games.

Brother's Dick and Curt Hickman head the mound corps. Hal Myers, East Stroudsburg High School outfielder, will help the outfield picture when the Cavalier's start summer vacation.

Saylorburg, will have to play it close to the vest if it hopes to improve on its 3-15 mark of last year.

The club has lost pitcher Frank Johns, who switched to Eastern Poconos and Larry Buzzard the leading hitter, who is in the Army.

Schoolboy Help
Eastern Poconos will depend mostly on high school talent to climb out of the loop cellar it shares with Barrett last year.

Bill Schoonover, of Stroud Union, will work at third and can pitch if needed. Joe Steele and Tony Gallagher from East Stroudsburg also fit into the picture.

Barrett, probably the oldest club in the league, is calling on many of the 1953 performers that won the title for the team to try to repeat.

Catcher Rich Harrison and his brother Minor, both with Analomink last year and Hank Olsommer head the veteran cast.

At Blue Ridge
Pocono Archers Seek First Place Sunday

BOWMEN from the Pocono Archery Association will invade the Blue Ridge Bowmen's field range tomorrow afternoon for their fifth tournament try.

With its bolstered membership giving them more tournament shooters, the local is in a good position to better last week's showing, when 16 of its bowmen captured awards in the event held on the Stroudsburg range.

The local bowmen scored 80 points to move within 15 points of top position.

Bowmanstown now has a four match total of 165 points, followed by Pocono's 150. Stalington is in the third place slot with 70, and Blue Ridge follows with 25. Bowmanstown jumped to the lead in the second event of the season when they scored heavily over the local club.

Paul Daily will represent the local club in the Expert AA division.

In the Expert A division Harold Hill, Jim Banks and Ed Lamm.

Distance Title To Michigan In Penn Relay Opening Race

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Anchorman Ergas Leps—a Lithuanian-born Canadian—whipped into the lead on the final turn to spearhead Michigan to the college distance medley title Friday at the Penn Relays.

The Wolverines were caught in 9 minutes, 56.8 seconds for the 2 1/2 mile jaunt, but it was Leps who carried the mail home safely.

Tony Seth ran the opening half-mile for Michigan, followed by Brian Gibson on the 440. Dave Martin did three-quarters and Leps the anchor mile.

Yale Leads
The Wolverines were in it all the way but for a time, it appeared that they weren't going to make it. Yale set the early pace and on the final leg, Georgetown's Bob Vinton made a bold move into the lead on the backstretch.

But on the final turn, Leps summoned a mighty finishing kick, passed the tiring Vinton, and hit the tape 15 yards to the good.

Duke anchorman Jared Nourse also passed Vinton in the last strides for second place. New York University was fourth and Yale a straggling fifth.

Jim Stack, Jack Knebel and Tom Carroll, the first three Yale runners, stayed a couple of feet ahead all the way. Carroll gave the baton to anchorman Ed Slowik with a two-year lead. But Slowik is not a miler by trade and lasted only about a half-mile.

Then it became a two-team race between Michigan and Duke, until Vinton came up from nowhere to make his challenge.

Only Major Race
The distance medley was the only major relay on the first day's program.

Josh Culbreath, the veteran Pan-American winner, captured the Olympic development 40-meter hurdles race in :51.5. It was merely a tuneup for the Philadelphia Pioneer Club because he already had beaten the Olympic qualifying time of :52.2. He finished 10 yards in front of Roy Thompson of the U.S. Army.

Willie Atterberry of Michigan State captured the regular 400-meter hurdles race in an identical :51.5. Fourteen of the individual events have been set aside for potential Olympians. Some of them duplicate the regular events.

Terry Engleman, 130-pound distance runner, won the 3-mile run, eclipsing the meet record, set in 1929, by no less a track star than Paavo Nurmi, the Flying Finn. Nurmi ran the distance in 4:29.2. Engleman was clocked today in 14:26.5.

Track times, of course, have improved tremendously since Nurmi's day, and the 3-mile run hasn't been on the Penn Relay program since Nurmi's record setting run of 31 years ago. But the 5 foot, 7 inch Engleman was as thrilled as an Olympic gold medal winner. Replacing Nurmi as a record holder under any circumstance is no mean feat for a young college athlete.

Boats Marine
Engleman won his race over Victor Zvolak of the Quantic Marine School, with Bob Kunkle of Navy third. Carl Homen of Delaware fourth, and Dick Shirey of Slippery Rock fifth. Engleman, from West Milton, Pa., is the Pennsylvania Teachers College Conference one and two mile champion.

Slippery Rock won the teachers conference one mile relay event equalling the meet record in the doing. The western Pennsylvanians were caught in 3:23.5, tying the mark set by Lock Haven in 1949. Kenneth Hanby, Joe Flemming, Dave Helke and Capt. Ken Hildebrand carried the baton for the winners. Indiana was second followed by West Chester, Cheyney and East Stroudsburg.

Beat Own Mark
Haverford College bettered its own mile relay record for the A. W. (Pop) Gaddleton Memorial Race. The runners from the Main Line were timed in 3:36.9 in the event named for a former Haverford track coach. The old mark of 3:27.8 was set in 1959 by Haverford. Albright ran second with Franklin and Marshall third, Muhlenberg, fourth, and Washington College fifth.

West Chester captured the Mid-Atlantic Conference mile relay championship with last year's winner, St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia. second, Lafayette took third followed by LaSalle and Lehigh. The winning West Chester quartet ran the distance in 3:19.3.

Penn's Bob Batdorf threw the discus 169 feet to win that event. Ed Kohler of Fordham was second with 162-6 1/2. Bob Read of Penn was second in the broad jump with a leap of 24-3/4. Les Bird of Michigan won with 24-2 1/4.

Esse Girls Win First Net Match

EAST Stroudsburg State College girls' tennis team won its first match Friday, defeating Muhlenberg 4-1 at Normal Hill.

Jane Dunn got to a 1-0 lead in the number one single match, beating Carol Emhardt, 6-3, 6-1.

Wilma Schier made it two in a row for East Stroudsburg, defeating Caroline Seeburger, 6-3, 6-3.

Micale Beaten
Mary Huffman earned Muhlenberg's lone point, whipping Concetta Micale 5-7, 7-5, 6-2.

In the doubles events: Mary Lou Seacock and Gail Nonnemaker trounced Ruth Smith and Barbara Fretz, 6-1, 6-2 and Rose Colbert and Anette Barbini lost only two games in beating Backy Lentz and Deena Caterina, 6-2, 6-0.
